TALKS OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT ARE WINNING FRIENDS FOR HIS NATION

South Americans Favor View of Monroe Doctrine Colonel Presents-Better Understanding Between the United States and Many Latin Countries, Is Assured-Each Learn of the Other-Root and Bryan Made Similar Effort.

Buenos Aires.-Certain countries of | fine country. Argentina is a fine South America have been taking the country. measure of Theodore Roosevelt. On Not only are all these countries fine his part Colonel Roosevelt has been but the provinces are fine, and the forming his impressions of those countowns are fine. The compliments are tries. His visit is far from ended. He not limited to the capital cities. The will know much more of them before small places delight Colonel Roosehe returns to the United States. Yet velt as much. The papers usually time enough has elapsed for some translate his favorite word as "enjudgment to be formed on both sides. chanted," but sometimes they merely ment that these South American coun- matter how long he stayed. tries are pleased with Colonel Rooseocracy, South America nevertheless insists on looking on Colonel Roosevelt as a man of action and as a practical politician rather than as an

The predominant and overwhelming interest is in his personality. His character and his public career have been analyzed, has been described as an author, a traveler, journalist, explorer, soldier, sportsman, publicist and idealist, but the analysis always ends with a tribute to him as the man

Aside from his personality, or rather his individuality, Colonel Roosevelt also has been received as the typical representative of the United States, or, as they put it here, the incarnation of North Americanism. Honors are paid to him as the former president. Some of the governments have made him formally their guests. He has been given the same consideration, substantially, that was shown Mr. Root when the latter was secre-

South America. Whatever views may be entertained of Colonel Roosevelt in regard to political issues at home, it must be said that in South America he is speaking for the people of the United States as a whole and without a suggestion of partisanship. The influence of the United States and its prestige in South America have been waning during the last six months, and Col-onel Roosevelt's exposition of Ameri-can policies and motives is doing wasted five minutes there when he els have been varied and vivid. Some of them have been strenuous enough to suit even his temperatment. There his own fund of geographical knowlalso have been some delicate ques-tions to be answered and some inter- of observation have never been put

There was in the first place the mis- is incisive and shows an intuitive a scaped in their night clothing. understanding over the colonel's speech when he first touched South American soil at Bahla, Brazil. Naturally he had good things to say about Brazil co-operating with the United States. They misunderstood that in Argantina and interpreted it as putting Brazil ahead of Argentina. The protest that went up gave the colonel pointed hint of the feeling between the two countries as to their relative

Mr. Root had a similar experience. These misunderstandings occur on account of geography. Brazil being the first country where distinguished Americans who come down the east coast land, it therefore gets their first impressions, which are always favorable, and which possibly are given exaggerated attention by the Brazilian newspapers. This is not liked by Argentina.

The only solution for this difficulty in the future will be for distinguished Americans to begin their South American journeys at Panama and come down the west coast. That is what Mr. Bryan did, and when he reached Buenos Aires he had had nothing to explain.

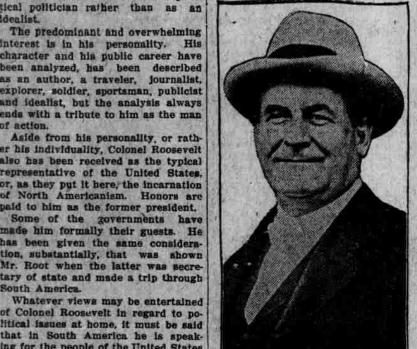

The Brazillan incident in itself was not of grave consequence, but if Colthrough his long experience as a politisian that comparisons between countries as between individuals, are odious, it would have impressed this fact on him. He announced, however, a firm purpose not to make comparisons and is adhering to it.

Relative to the different countries Colonel Roosevelt's impressions as given publicity may be summed up in this way: Uruguay is a fine country. Brazil is a fine country. Chile is a put it as "enamored." The travel schedule through southern Brazil and then over a large section of Argentina and through Chile was strenuous enough even for Colonel Roosevelt. The hospitality of the provinces is so generous that the colonel's splendid physique is apt to show traces of it, for it is not given even to an apostle of the strenuous life to partake of 11 banquets in a day and not feel the effects. That is what happened in one of the provincial towns. Calling some of these banquets breakfasts does not mitigate their toll on digestion.

Aside from wanting to inform himself as fully as possible about the different sections of the countries, Col- REFUSED IMPORTED GOATS onel Roosevelt did a wise thing in letting it be known that he did not propose that his visit should be limited to the big centers of population. The provincial towns have shown their apreciation. Some complaint has been voiced in different localities that he did not stay long enough, but this It may be crystallized in the state complaint would have been heard no

In Rosario, the great grain exportvelt and Colonel Roosevelt is pleased ing port of the north it was said that made by Mrs. Harriet Fisher Andrew, he went through the town in an auto-While he has been preaching ideal- mobile like a streak of lightning, but ism and while the main theme of his his party reached the railway station addresses has been on ideals of de- with five minutes to spare before the special train was scheduled to depart. Colonel Roosevelt, however, was not a free agent at Rosario any more than ning to restore the vanishing might have seen something it was not his fault.

William J. Bryan.

The interviews the colonel gives the newspapers in the different cities are gratifying to local sentiment. While grasp of local conditions that is surprising. He never falls to sugar his statements with compliments that LEONE AND OMELET

It is doubtful whether many public men in Chile or Argentina have a better understanding of provincial affairs than Colonel Roosevelt is obtaining in his journeys.

Elihu Root.

Threatens to Take an Old Trenton Industry to Italy If Customs Men Do Not Relent.

Trenton.-Refusal of the landing of two Persian goats may be responsible for the removal from this city of the Fisher Anvil Works, one of the oldest manufacturing establishments in Trenton. This, at least, is the threat roprietress of the works, and wife of Lieutenant Andrew, of the Argentine Republic. When Mrs. Andrew arrived at Hoboken recently she brought with her the two goats, one of which was to be installed at her farm in Ewing township and the other to be given as a mascot to the Argentine battleship recently launched at the Camden plant of the New York Shipbuilding

The customs authorities refused to permit the goats to be brought ashore because of a law passed at the last session of congress prohibiting the importation of cloven-footed animals from Italy because of the prevalence of a mouth and foot disease in that country. Mrs. Andrew, who had paid a large price for the goats, was incensed and at once set about trying to get a special order from Washington for their release. Thus far nothing has been accomplished. Former Mayor Wittpenn of Jersey City was asked to use his influence in behalf of the goats. Mrs. Andrew tried the expedient of having the goats bonded for delivery aboard the Arhas been supervised by her husband, but was informed by the federal authorities that this could not be done Mrs. Andrew threatened that if some thing were not done she would move her factory to Italy. She has been much in the public eye and made a trip around the world by automobile Called Huerta a Chinaman. Chicago.-Charles Sing, a Chinese charged with disorderly conduct, asked that his case be continued six months because "President Huerta of Mexico, who is a Chinaman will conquer the United States by that time."

Burglar's Match Causes Fire. Ruchanan, N. Y .- A lighted match, dropped by a burglar, destroyed Mrs. sational complications to be avoided. to better use. His comment usually lary Mackay's home. The occupants

GIRL A WIRELESS OPERATOR

Miss Vawter of Northwestern university Evanston, Ill., always a deep student of science, has now become a regular wireless telegraph operator. She holds nightly conversations with Paris via the station at Arlington and flashes the official time to the Eiffel Tower operator.

had interrupted the most pleasant time were sought by burglars who visited he had ever experienced. He claimed at the home of Joseph Cicelio at Tur-

Young Civil Engineer's Career Ended While Supevising First Job in New York.

New York .- in sight of a hundred workmen, who were powerless to help charge of the placing and raising of him, George Wallin, a young civil engineer employed by the Pittsburgh Contracting company, roasted to death first of the great arches was to be caught fire. The workmen rushed to on top of an Edison electric light pole raised into place in Jerome avenue, the Bronx, The

When Resuscitated Tells of Dreams of Splendid Music, Circuses and Other Entertainments.

fished out. He was apparently dead.

hour the boy was revived.

Wallin shinned up a tall electric to be the first to climb up.

HOUR ON RIVER BED PLEASANT | Gerald told physicians and others

Pikeville, Ky.-After lying at the happy dream at the bottom of the rivbottom of the Big Sandy river for an er, and wanted to know why he could hour, Gerald Lockhart, twelve, was not be left alone to enjoy them.

ROASTED IN A NET OF WIRES | body hung across two wires for more | light pole, carrying wires of 65,000 voltthan 15 minutes.

Wallin was engaged in the constructing of the steel frame of the immense new Eighth regiment armory. He was connected two of them. His body twenty-three years old and out of technical school only a year and full of the wires and the immense current shot enthusiasm of youth. Wallin was in through him. the frame work and this was the big-who had resuscitated him that they Gerald fell from the stern of a small age. In his eagerness to get things started he crowded his way through the net of wires and in some way disformed a connection between these

The Edison people say he was dead in a second. But his body writhed and gest morning of his career, for the twisted on the wires and his clothes the foot of the pole and several fought

Left Jewels: Took Face

Pittsburgh, Pa .- Only real valuables

he was in the midst of a grand musical tle Creek. Not trifling with jewelry concert, that circuses and every imag- and a small bank, they took a dozen inable form of anxisement peopled his of eggs. A Pantagreulian Funnel. London.-The funnels of the Cunarder Aquitina, now building, are large but friends insisted on an effort being boat as he was crossing the river. He enough for the Comet, one of the first furs, with golden hair tumbling from pillow clutched to her breast.

coolly. "I was locked in my brother's studio and I didn't want to wait-so I umped down here."

The man glanced up at the open Leone yawned and wandered once more around the big studio, where 'You jumped from there?" he asked there was a fascinating clutter of easincredulously, and as she nodded, he els and paint tubes, sheaves of brushes added quickly: "You are hurt-wait a in ancient pottery jars, portfolios spilling their contents in dusty corcoffee-then, perhaps you will let me ners, cabinets of curies from every carry you downstairs.'

corner of the world, and the melancholy assemblage of Jim's unsold picpillow and sobbed while her rescuer The room was rapidly growing dark. and Leoine lighted a lamp and sat disappeared. down at the table to write a few caus-"I hope you will pardon my rudetic lines to her most forgetful brother.

"There!" she murmured, as her little hand folded the paper. "You won't at him; "but, you see, when a chap's forget that lecture very soon, Master up against it—the lost egg and the end A moment later she had extin- there'll be plenty more tomorrow," he guished the lamp and was groping to-ward the door. It resisted all her ef-escaped her, "only it was inconvenient, attention of some other tenant of the pity swept over her heart for she felt building. She remembered with a very sure that his light tone covered tremor of fear that Jim had said the heavy heartedness and that he would other tenant of the top floor had gone | go to bed supperless now that she had abroad, that there was no telephone in ruined his omelet. But there was nothing she could say for hours and he would only seek the man whose supper she had spoiled. studio after he had been home and had

By JUNE GAHAN.

"He won't have another opportunlooked out on the flat roof of the building next door. It was an older building and Leone knew it as a place pigeon-holed with the tiny studios of impecunious painters and art students. Jim had started there, but had moved into the more pretentious building next door when it was opened.

"I believe I could get down there." The daring thought came to Leone as she looked down at the roof below. It but you know, it isn't the sort of stuff was a drop of twelve feet, but Leone I really want to turn out." Colson was like a cat on her feet and quite fearless.

She pushed the window wide open, selected a sofa pillow from the heap the moments flew while they waited on the couch, tossed it to the roof he for the taxicab summoned by the artlow, gathered her trim skirts about her ist. He told Leone that his name was little feet, sat on the sill, slipped to Loomis-Carl Loomis-and she, was the wide coping below, and from there startled at the vague familiarity of it. jumped toward the light patch that Of course he was one of Jim's friends. represented the pillow.

The moon peered over the roof of brother Jim mention your name," she the taller building and saw Leone told him. struggle to her feet. She was gasping for breath and she felt bruised and beaten as she picked up her scattered belongings-stole and muff and handbag, and as many of her amber hatpins as the moonlight revealed. "Silly idiot!" muttered Leone, limping toward a skylight which showed a building? My story sounds incredible ful sight. -but-ah!" She peered down into the room beneath.

urned face to the wall. A young man, gaunt of frame, grim knew where she was. of countenance, was cooking something over a small gas stove. Present-person. It was a meager meal when it most appetizing omelet hot from the man was about to sit down to the meal-and somehow Leone knew that he was hungry for it-she arose with the intention of finding some stairway that would lead into the building. The sight of the appetizing meal had made her hungry. As she turned away her heavy gold mesh bag slipped from her careless disappeared from her startled sight.

grasp, struck the glass skylight and From below came the sound of a crashing of china and a surprised shout. Two minutes later a door burst open and the gaunt young man, excited and wrathful, appeared on the Leone hurried toward him. "I am so sorry," she tried to explain; "but I was trying to find the way down and I dropped my bag

"You spoiled a perfectly good ome let!" he interrupted tragically. "Worse luck, too-the last egg I had." Then, with a closer look at her, his tone changed to one of astonishment. What under the sun are you doing up

Leone held her head haughtily. She was hungry and she was near to tears. Her ankle hurt-she believed that she had sprained it, and he was so very

As for the man, he stared back at her with incesasing surprise. One whispered. does not expect to find on the roof of a (Copyright, 1912, by the McClure News studio building at eight p. m. a beau-

After many years, Hicks met Rix, a would be secure from decay.

Hicks was entertaining Rix and was ing. In September, 1913, it was moved showing him his household goods. He on rollers to its final location. was a facetious soul who took an altogether uncalled for delight in his own inches in diameter at the base and ten somewhat feeble jokes.

husband. "Why," said Rix, "you never told me shape of an arrow.—Engineering Recthat your wife had been married be- ord. fore!" He examined the picture with some interest, "Well, he looks a real dough-headed sort of idiot, anyway."

myself at the age of twenty-five, sir!"

Long Flagpole at Vancouver. The erection of a fir flagpole in front of the provincial courthouse at Vancouver, B. C., has presented unusual features because of the desire to use a long, single stick, representative of the timber resources of the proy- Adelaide, Melbourne and Bri bane.

That Other Life.

realized here, we may hearten ourselves with the word that Dean Bosunder an ermine turban and a sofa "I am Miss Colson," said Leon window in Jim Colson's workshop. moment and I will fetch you a cup of

At the kindness in his altered ton Leone promptly sat down on the sofa ness," he said when she had finished the cup of hot coffee and could smile of the loaf mean a whole lot! Oh, forts to open it. The knob simply re-fused to turn. She pounded on the door in the vain hope of attracting the

There was no fire escape and the or do to mitigate the circumstances; great windows in the slant of the roof although the gold mesh bag was did not offer hope of escape. There crammed with money, she could not was no possibility of Jim missing her offer it to this perfectly fierce looking Leone would not let him carry her been reminded of the dinner engage down stairs, but she leaned on his ment. This was the second time he arm, and as they made slow progress had forgotten her. It would be the down four flights of stairs to the street he told her something about himself. It seemed that he was an illustrator: ity," half sobbed Leone as she leaned he had turned out some fair stuff, he drearily against the window that told her modestly, but progress had been slow. While he was awaiting the payment for some magazine sketches he was illustrating advertisements.

"Shocking, isn't it?" he laughed. "I think it's splendid!" cried Leone "Why, I always look at the advertising sections of the magazines the very first thing."

"I am encouraged," he cried almost gally; "some of them pay very well-"Of course not," agreed Leone so-

They became better acquainted as "I am sure that I have heard my "Very likely. We were classmates." Leone blushed hotly because of the thrill of delight she felt. If he was one of Jim's friends, she would meet him again.

The taxicab came and Mr. Loomis tucked Leone inside, handed her the gold bag, held her hand in his big one yellow patch of light. "How do I know for a brief instant, and then watched whether anyone will let me into the the machine bear her from his wist-

In the Colson mansion, James Colson, Jr., was plunging into his over many criminals who should be in It was a small room and meanly furnished with the barest necessities. A convertible couch bed, a table, a few his dinner engagement with Leone unchairs, bookcases, and some painting til long after the appointed time; then or judges after conviction have susparaphernalia. The canvasses were he had arrived home to discover that pended sentence, or imposed a light no one had seen Leone and no one ly he came and laid a table for one In the warm library, where her father is removed, and the criminal receives and mother had taken anxious refuge his just punishment regardless of famwas set forth—a pot of coffee, a half during Jim's absence, Leone told her ly connections. And certainly if the loaf of rather dry-looking bread, and a amazing story and tossed the sofa state can make money out of the labor pillow at her brother.

should say I did know him. Best chap ing the family of the criminal, in no in the world. Didn't I ever tell you about the agreement he made with his father? You know old Loomis is rolling in money-could buy the governor out several times, couldn't he, sir?"

Mr. Colson smiled indulgently and passed a hand over Leone's bright

"Is he the youngster who wanted to be an artist and his father told him if he could support himself for one year by his pen and brush he would settle a hundred thousand dollars on him and send him abroad to study?"

"That's Carl. Loomis," exclaimed Jim. "He told me the other day that the year would be up next week-said he had been on the ragged edge of starvation half the time, but he had worried through. Carl said he'd been cooking for himself when funds were low and that he'd grown sick to death of eggs.' Leone laughed softly and her eyes were very bright, but she made no mention of the frugal meal or of the omelet she had reined. She would never forget Loomis' angry dismay at the catastrophe.

Six months later when Carl Loomis asked Leone to marry him and go to Paris for a year or so, she turned a rosy face to his. "I can make a delicious omelet," she paper Syndicate.)

No Wonder Hicks Got Mad. | ince, and to so place it that its base friend of his schoolboy days. Almost A suitable timber was cut and dehalf a century had passed since they livered in the rough at the courthouse had gone to school together and now in the fall of 1912. It was left for a each was a gray-haired father of a year to season, where there would be no likelihood of its curving while dry-

The flagpole is 208 feet long, 36 inches at the top, and when ready for "That," said he, pointing to a paint- erection weighed about ten tons. Suring, "is a portrait of my wife's first mounting the pole is a four-foot globe and a 20-foot weathervane in the

He Took the Hint. "Just one kiss." murmured the book-"That," said Hicks, "is a portrait of keeper. The pretty stenographer pointed to a placard. "No Goods at Retail," it stated. So he took a job lot. Australians Prefer the City More than one-third of Australia's residents live in four cities-Sydney the fabric with a hot iron. I well-worn tools without a sigh, and go There is no break in a life. Though out expecting elsewhere better work to our worthy ambitions may never be do."-Exchange. Mrs. Bings-Mrs. Nextdoor told me worth once sent to a young man whose career threatened to end at the very you once wanted to marry that Miss opening of his,life-work. "Be sure," he Upton. She wouldn't have you, I prewrote, "that some place, somewhere, sume you shall have an opportunity to real- Mr. Bings-Did Mrs. Nextdoor say ize the highest ambitions of your soul." Miss Upton refused me?

CHINA'S FUTURE OF INTEREST

China is tossing restlessly in her age-long sleep, and shows signs of tiful girl, clad in silk and velvet and Every Student Realizes the Possibilitles That Are Part of Country's Present Development.

> awakening. This situation appeals to the United States only indirectly; but most of the land-hungry European nations are waiting at her bedside, and are guessing as to her present pathologic condition and her outlook for future health and strength. Competent judges near at hand agree that if China were to produce, soon, some great leader, he would become the conter of crystallization for the saturated solution of loval sentiment, which is latent in this mighty people. Lacking such a living leader, the Chinese may call upon Confucius, and unite the several diverse provinces under a potent bond of religious fervor. However the influence of the great ethical teacher may have waned during the past century, he has not become a negligible quantity, as the recent surprising observance of his birthday fully attests. About a week before that date a circular letter was sent to all the governors of provinces, setting forth the vatues of Confucius. The intention was that this statement should be presented to local magistrates, and by them be brought before the plain people. Thus a way would be prepared for the subsequent elevation of the great and honored sage as the true leader of the new republic. Naturally, we would expect him to be held most highly in honor by the old dethroned Manchu dynasty. "Young China," however realizes that the country greatly needs both a leader and a religion, and that these two needs could be met by a revival of the Confucian cult probably in a modernized form. Twenty years ago the sage's birthday was observed only slightly and sporadically, but this year there has been a widely spread and distinctly fervent expression of public devotion to him. Decorations, processions and public meetings are reported from all the provinces. "Young China" is willing to concede much, if only it can gather in most of the factions, conservative and radical, throughout this heterogeneous nation. At one celebration, not far from Canton, hymns in favor of Confucius were sung by four graduates of the Canton Christian college; and the words were set to the music of "Ye Banks and Braes of Bonnie Doon," and to a favorite Methodist melody. The effect of this year's observances is to suggest the conjecture that China's awakening may have to be primarily religious, and secondarily political. What will result from this call to Confucius?-American Review of Re-

Fac Simile Signature of Chart Fletcher. Prison Reform Praised. Law Notes makes this comment on THE CENTAUR COMPANY, the recent prison reform in the state NEW YORK. of Washington by which the inmates of the penal institutions are allowed At6 months old which is paid to their families: "Aside from the humaneness of this practice, it has its value in the administration of the criminal law, for no one will venture to dispute that their families, have refused to convict, sentence, out of regard for the same fact. Of course with such a system When Leone came limping into the in force the reason for such unwarhouse it was to fall into Jim's arms. ranted (from a legal view) lentency of its convicts, there is no good reason "Loomis-Carl Loomis? Well, I why it should pocket the gains, leav-

a small daily wage for their labor, crime." College's Ten Commandments. The college students' "Ten Commandments" have been discovered at Columbia university. They were published by the Dorms, a paper issued by the residents of Hartley, Livingstone and Furnald halls. A strange feature about the list is that there is no provision for spending a single mo-way responsible for his misdeed, to bear the real punishment for his ment at his lessons. These are the 1. To rise at 7:30, to retire at 10:00. 2. To exercise half an hour daily. 3. To read at least a chapter of the Bible daily. 4. To attend the theater once week. 5. To attend all the important lectures on the campus. 6. To spend a few minutes daily reading periodicals. 7. To get as much out of myself as possible. 8. To read one novel and one play week. 9. To write to mother every week. 10. To take inventory of myself the first of each month. Audience Bowed to Artist. Jean Gerardy, the 'cellist, who has finished a successful month's tour in England with Tetrazzini, will tour in Germany, Russia, Paris, Belgium and Austria. He tells the story of how a delightful provincialism is still prevalent in England: "I was invited to stop off at a vil lage not on my regular itinerary by a deputation of music lovers. I couldn't resist the invitation. The hall was

"Fancy my amused amazement when on coming on to the stage and making my usual perfunctory bow the entire audience politely rose from their seats and bowed back with the utmost for mality, some of the older women

Two Ways. "Ever been hauled in?" asked the

"How do you mean hauled in? By first motorist. "Hauled in?" "Yes, hauled in."

throwing a curtsey."

a cop or a rope?"

To Remove Mud Stains. Carbonate of soda will remove the most obstinate of mud stains. Ruh off with a cloth or flannel dipped in the soda, then press the wrong side of Wet Clear Through. A little girl was playing at the table with her cup of water. Her father took the cup from her and in so doing accidentally spilled some of the water on her. "There," she cried as she left the table indignantly, "you wet me clear to my feelings!"

Canada is nearly thirty times as large as Great Britain and Ireland, the total area of the Dominion being only 237,000 square miles less than the

"The Devil to Pay." The expression, "The devil to pay and no pitch hot," had its origin in the ship yard. When calking the seams of the deck it was important that the oakum in those seams should be kept dry. This was done by "paying," or in other words filling the seams with hot pitch, which was done with a long-handled mop made especially for that use. If a sudden shower should come up and wet the oakum before the seam was "payed" or filled with pitch. the fresh water would rot the oakum and there would be "the devil to pay."

Redd-We've got a girl in our set who can tell the time of day by her pulse. Greene-Nonsense! How could she

"She wears a wrist watch. That's by her pulse, isn't it?"

Proper Species. He (fiercely)-What was the little bird that told you I had been drink-She (coolly)-I think it was a swallow.-Boston Transcript.

Some men fail to meet their obligations because they are headed the other way.

POST PROPERTY OF

900 DROPS

ALCOHOL-3 PER CENT AVegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regula-ting the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerful

ness and Rest Contains neither

Opium, Morphine nor Mineral

Recipe of Old DrSAMUEL PITCHER

Aperfect Remedy for Constipa-

Worms Convulsions Feverish

ness and LOSS OF SLEEP

5 Doses -35 CENT

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

NOT NARCOTIC

Pumphin Seed -Ale Sensa -Rochelle Selts -Aries Seed -Peppermint -Bilorbunate Seda -Werm Seed Sugar Vindergreen Flever

Rheumatism Is Torture Many pains that pass as rheumatis are due to weak kidneys—to the failur of the kidneys to drive off uric ac-

When you suffer achy, bad joints, back ache too, dizziness and some urinary disturbances, get Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that is recommended by over 150,000 people in many different lands. Doan's Kidney Pills help weak kid neys to drive out the uric acid which is the cause of backache, rheumatism

DOAN'S RIDNEY
FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N.Y.

W. N. U., FORT WAYNE, NO. 3-1914

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature

For Over Thirty Years

Needed Supply of Oatmeal.

It is the nature of an Irishman to give a spice of whimsical humor to commonplace incident or observation

Pat was crossing a broad, shallow

"Pat." shouted Mike from the bank,

Ozone Chicks.

ozone invigorates the chicks as indi-

Belated Privilege.
"He is opposed to woman's rights.

"Yes, he's the kind of man who lets

Sometimes Lunkheadedness.

"It is often impossible to distinguish "Naturally! Because it is often the Import Cobble Stones.

quarries from which to obtain pav-

Something in Common.

"I hate to have an uncongenial out-

"He needn't be uncongenial. We'll advertise for one who plays bridge."

Coughs and Colds cannot hold out against Dean's Mentholated Cough Drops. A single dose gives relief—5c at all Druggists.

Every once in awhile you meet a man whose actions you can't fully de-

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children

ecthing, softens the guns, reduces inflamma-ion, aliays pain, cures wind colic, 25c a bottle le-

However, a good-natured friend is A vellow cur looks as lonesome as a defeated candidate after an election.

sometimes an enemy in disguise

"We'll have to take a roomer."

sider in the house."

scribe without swearing.

Says they get along better with priv-came out in ten hours.

silence from wisdom."

ileges.

A poultryman of Waltham, Mass.,

STILL USE HORSE AND WAGON Transportation Methods of Old Days Yet Employed by Majority of Mankind. stream, carrying a bag of oatmeal up-The history of highway transportathe bank. Now, a hole had broken in tion since the days of the Roman em- the bottom of the bag, and as Pat pire exhibits few phases and great moved the oatmeal trickled down in turning points which have marked a thin rivulet into the water. new eras in progress, in efficiency, in conveniences or economy. Historians "I'm thinking if the oatmeal isn't of transportation tell us that man's plenty with you, you'll have thin porfirst land vehicle was a boatlike strucridge. ture without wheels, which was pulled by sheer brute strength, first by man and then by animals which he subjugated, the ox, horse and mule. The is using electric ozonizers to reduce next step in land transportation was mortality in the hatching and broodby means of crude rollers, which were ing of chicks. Ordinarily 24 to 40 clipped underneath the vehicle very hours elapse from the time the first much on the order of the rollers which | chick peeps forth from its shell until we see in use in moving small build- the last one appears. But the use of ings short distances. When the revolving wheel was apcated by a recent hatching which plied to vehicles a great impetus was given to highway transportation and for 4,000 years at least, until very recently, highway transportation saw very little change or improvement, says the Engineering Magazine. If we carefully compare the methods of highway transportation in the days a woman stand in the street car until of the Roman empire and the year a block away from his destination and 1912 we find that the greater percenthen acts as if he hadn't noticed her tage of the world is still using the before and insists that she accept his horse and wagon very much after the seat." fashion of the Romans; we see no great evolution in highway transportation parelleling the wonderful advance that has been made in power transportation by rail or trolley. The delivery of our merchandise is much same thing."-Boston Evening Tranafter the fashion of 5,000 years ago, script. although the motor, the iron horse of the highway, has reached mechanical perfection in the span of ten years; however, so great a slave to custom is man that he finds today comparative- ing material, Brazil is forced to imly little commercial utilization of one port cobble stone for its streets from of the greatest civilizing agencies and Portugal. efficiency tools that so far has been given the world. The development of this efficiency tool has gone on so quietly and at the same time so thoroughly that the world at large, grounded in horse traditions, has not yet been informed on motor transportation. To an investigating mind it seems paradoxical that in the twentieth century the human race should be using for one purpose means that were employed dozens of centuries ago.

The Cause. "They say they've made a failure with eugenics in Milwaukee." "Serves 'em right. They ought to stick to the old makes of beer."

Don't stint the living in order to strew flowers on the graves of the dead.

We generally have more sympathy for the under dog than we have for

Never pass up your friends in order

The Secret of Health is Elimination of Waste

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY (In Tablet or Liquid Form)

Assists the stomach in the proper digestion of food, which is turned into health sustaining blood and all noisonous waste matter is sustaining blood and all poisonous waste matter is speedily disposed of through Nature's channels. It makes men and women clear-headed and able-bodied—restores to them the health and strength of youth. Now is the time for your rejuvenation. Send 50 cents for a trial box of this medicine.

Send 31 one-cent stamps for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advisor-1008 pages-worth $2. Always handy in case of family illness.

Address R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. V.

made to resuscitate him. After an could swim, but he said cramps over- steamships ever built, to pass through If we continue to do our work well we Mrs. Bings-No, she merely reshall be able at the close of the day, marked that Miss Upton had always whole continent of Europe. took him in the cold water. them. in Drummond's phrase, "to put by the been a sensible girl.

Every business man knows how difficult it is to keep the pigeon holes and drawers of his desk free from the accumulation of useless papers. Every housewife knows how difficult it is to keep her home free from the accumulation of all manner of useless things. So it is with the body. It is difficult to keep it free from the accumulation of waste matter. Unless the waste is promptly eliminated the machinery of the body soon becomes clogged. This is the beginning of most human ills.